Partnering for Good

Our initial plan, to hire 20 new coders this year, has become a reality. Our current team is working remotely, for the most part, and our agenda has significantly changed. Challenges remain, but the resilience of the community has disappeared. We have hired 20 new coders and launched our Teach to Learn pilot program.

In the Spring of 2020, our world turned upside down. The pandemic has highlighted the disadvantage that people in the tech industry face. Many were laid off, and a drastic change in the tech industry has made it harder for people to stay employed.

But the tech industry has also become a beacon of hope for many people. We are working hard to make sure that everyone who wants to learn to code can, and we are proud of our work.

The LaunchCode team has been integral to making a difference in the community. We have helped many people find work and we are proud of our work.

Thank You

We want to express our gratitude to all of our partners and donors who have supported us. Without your support, we would not be able to continue our work.

We are also grateful to the many people who have volunteered their time and energy to help us. We could not do this work without your help.

We look forward to continuing our work and making a difference in the community.

Meet LaunchCode Alum, Gina

Thank you for your support in making a positive impact on the community. Together, we can continue to excel and support those in need.
Partnering

During the needs of our community, we have launched a program called LaunchCoders that provides hands-on training in computer programming. This program is designed to help individuals from all walks of life, including those who may not have had access to traditional educational opportunities. By making a gift or signing up for monthly donations, you can support our mission and help make a difference in people's lives.

Good

Learn to Code

we can help you learn to code in ways that work best for you. Whether you're looking to start a new career or just want to add a valuable skill to your resume, our program offers flexible and engaging learning experiences.

We

across all industries. Many of our graduates have found new opportunities in tech, while others have used their coding skills to improve their current jobs. Our program transcends traditional expectations and is dedicated to helping you succeed.

The

Future of Work

As the world becomes more digital, there is a growing demand for tech professionals. Our program prepares you for the future by teaching you the skills you need to succeed in this fast-paced industry.

Expenses

We

understand that financial barriers can prevent people from accessing education. To help support our students, we rely on donations from individuals like you. Your contributions help keep our learning and job placement programs free.
